NORTH CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
MCMLVII

Foreword

Another year has gone into history at North Central High. A year filled with many firsts: commencement and baccalaureate held outdoors, an all-night junior and senior prom, honor guard for the seniors at graduation, district and sectional championships for the baseball team, and the county science fair held at our school. It is the hope of the Annual staff that this book contains a record of all the events, activities, and fellow students, so that the memories of the 1962-63 school year shall remain at your finger tips for future reference and enjoyment.

Special Recognition

A friend and teacher of North Central High will be greatly missed next year. Mrs. Nearing has retired from her many years of teaching.

Mrs. Nearing, who received her bachelor's degree from DePauw University, has been teaching for twenty-six years. Her first two years were at Kunkle; next she taught at Jewell for two years; then she came back to Kunkle for one year. After a period of several years she resumed teaching at Pioneer High and North Central High for a total of twenty-one years.

During the time that she has taught she has had many other activities besides teaching English and foreign languages. She has been an advisor to many classes of which she was to the present sophomore class. Other activities include being a former dramatics club advisor, director of plays, and advisor to the library club. Mrs. Nearing helped to organize the National Honor Society at North Central High. These activities have helped the pupils and fellow workers realize her ability and understanding.

It can be said that Mrs. Nearing was respected and loved by nearly all, and she will be greatly missed in the years to come.

Aids To Education

The tool of research and exploration through scientific methods.

The tool of practical living.

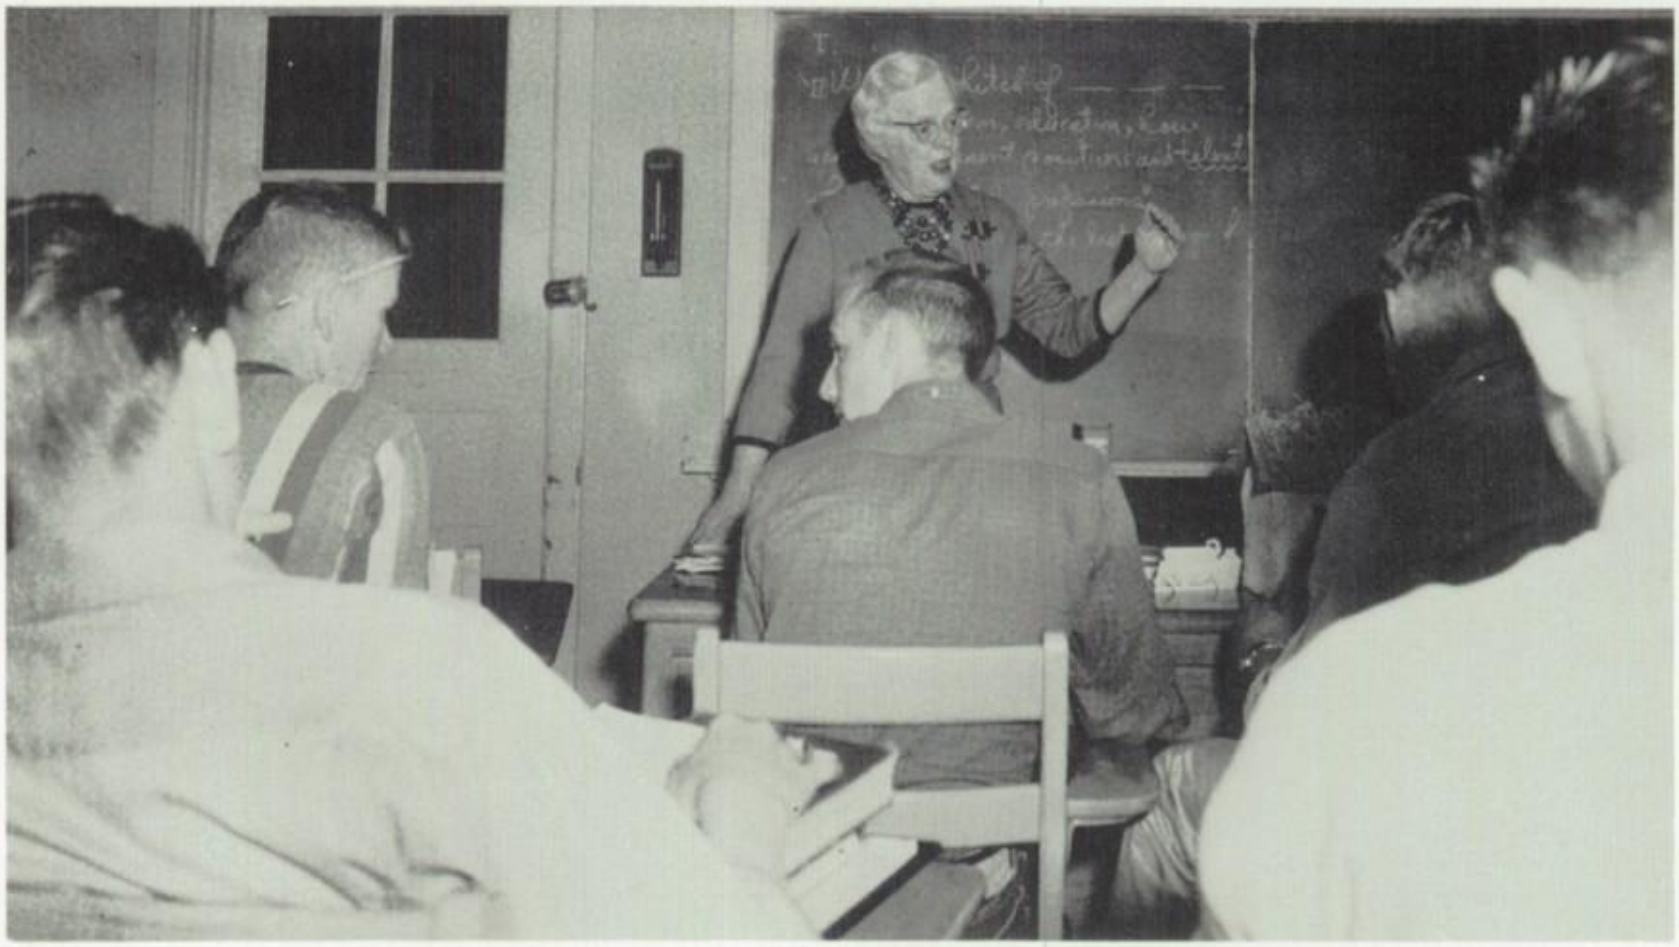
As the centuries pass, the question is often asked, "Has man progressed?" To answer this question we must first investigate our surroundings. While doing this, one cannot help to see such advancements as a television set, radio, automobile, superhighways, and electrical utensils numbering into the thousands. All of these items have one common purpose; to make for man a better, easier, and more luxurious life.

This has been proven in the classroom too. Not until recently has the student been able to acquire his knowledge from sources other than the textbook. He can profit from educational movies, educational television, and countless other methods which are being used to speed up the learning process. Education must progress with the times. A student must learn his "readin', ritin' and rithmetic'" but also prepare himself for a fast moving world. No longer can a student graduate from high school and think that his education has been completed. He must continue to become better prepared for his job.

"Tools" aid in this progress. Through their use, a student can grasp knowledge faster and be able to remember it longer. He learns by doing and today he has even a better chance to do so by the improvements in his tools. The math student can whip out the answer to his problem in a matter of seconds on a slide rule. The commercial student can do the same thing with his problems on a calculator. The English student can improve his reading skill by mechanical readers, improved dictionaries, and encyclopedias.

The three "Tools" mentioned above are but only a few of the numerous facilities that are available today. Has man progressed? YES; but he will progress even further through education, more and better education.

The tool of understanding our heritage, past and present, through reading.



Key to Knowledge Found Through Use of English

English is a form of art which uses words, language, and expression as a means of communication instead of brushes, paints, and canvas. Thus any person who speaks, reads, or writes is an artist. It is increasingly necessary that a person have a firm English background because even in daily contacts he finds unending need to express himself accurately. He also must be able to interpret accurately what other people have written. English also is a stepping stone to all other subjects, because almost all knowledge is locked in writing and the key to the lock of knowledge is English.

"HOW LOW CAN YOU GO"

The general trend has been one of gaiety and care-free-ness.

The young men of today don their peg leg pants, ponchos, or baggys, and with an extra dab of 'that greasy kid's stuff', head for the nearest fad. That fad is anything from packing into a telephone booth, with 15 of his buddies, to taking a 50 mile jaunt. Of course no teenager in his right mind would start out on this excursion with out an ample supply of food, a transistor, and his girl. This adorable little thing would be clad in chopped-off blue jeans, or surfers, and a school sweat shirt. Her hair style varies from the 'Boufont' to the 'Cleopatra'.

After completing the action of the day everyone gathers at the nearest 'joint', whether it is Spoke's Diner or Becker's Restaurant for a round of pop and pizza. After this bit of refreshment and relaxation they fill the nearest juke box with enough coins to carry them completely through several Twists, Limbos, and Flys.

When evening is nigh everyone watches their favorite doctor or cowboy show on the television, then, after getting the gang or a date, they head for the nearest drive-in, bowling alley, or record hop.

The boys and girls out do themselves in the evenings, by dressing 'just so'. The guys now have narrow ties, and narrow lapels, with peg leg slacks and shiny black shoes, and of course, another dab of that 'greasy kid's stuff'. The girls, by now, have their hair well under control with the help of large rollers and plenty of hair spray. They are waiting patiently for the magic hour in a short skirt, bulky sweater, or culottes and a blouse, with pale lips and finger nails to match.

Elephant jokes, loud music, and lots of fun round off a perfect day for everyone.

Today's teens are happy teens, we are the 'Boom Babies' of the '40's, and we are still booming!

The gym was decorated by the seniors and it was a beautiful dance. The attendants were: Carol Oliver, sophomore; Sandra Hinkle, freshman; Susan Wilgus, junior.

Sound Administration = Sound Education

School facilities, finance, policies, and a strong administrator are provided by the board of education. North Central's board this school year, under the presidency of Mr. Lavern Slagle, has strived to provide a more comprehensive educational program than has been provided in the past. A black top area was provided at both schools for recreational purposes as well as area for teaching of games for the elementary grades. A track team was started. The Kunkle building was completely painted and new windows were installed in the science and second grade rooms to help provide a more pleasing atmosphere in which to study.

Educational leadership was provided by our executive head Mr. William Brownson. English 9 was begun with the purpose of increasing reading speed and comprehension. An emphasis was made throughout all classes in spelling, outlining, paragraph study, and chapter understanding. Many other aspects of our educational program was improved.

Class of 1963

Looking back upon the past twelve years, the Class of '63 recalls many pleasant school memories. In September, 1957, the students of Pioneer and Kunkle schools joined forces to form North Central School. The Class of '63 was then beginning the seventh grade with a total of 58 students.

In 1959, the 60 members of the Freshman Class entered high school, not knowing what to expect, but willing to do their best. After surviving initiation by the sophomores, we felt a part of N.C.H.S.

The big thrill of our Sophomore year was choosing our class rings. Our business venture that year was sponsoring an all-school carnival.

Our Junior year was accented by receiving our class rings. We also discovered our dramatic ability when we presented the Junior Play, "Tune in on Terror." Our money making project that year was selling candy at noon and operating the concession stand at ball games. The biggest project of the year was planning and giving the banquet and prom in honor of the Seniors.

Then, before we realized it, we were Seniors. This was the biggest year of all.

As Seniors, we sold magazine subscriptions, attended Government Day, and had our Senior pictures taken. The Senior Play, "Rest Assured," was our final attempt at dramatics. On May 10, we attended the well-planned all-night banquet and prom given in our honor by the Juniors.

The highlight of the year came when we left on our trip to Gettysburg, Washington D.C., New York, and Niagara Falls. This was great fun and will be remembered by us for many years.

Finally we reached our goal of twelve years. The receiving of our diplomas at Commencement Exercises on May 26, 1963.

Thus our days of trouble and triumph at N.C.H.S. were completed, but not without the realization of our indebtedness to the teachers who have taught us how to meet the problems that will confront us in the future.

Baccalaureate and Commencement were held outdoors on the lawn in front of the high school building for the firtst time in the history of the school. It was beautiful even though it did get a little chilly.

The class of 1963 was led by Carol Oxender with Barbara Orewiler as salutatorian. Reverend Jerry Meyer gave the baccalaureate sermon and music was presented by the North Central high school chorus.

Listening Juniors

"Stop, look, and listen before you cross the street." This saying has a special meaning to every Junior class. We Juniors have stopped at a street. The name of this street is Seniors. We are looking both ways before we cross. We are looking behind at memories of passed years, both happy and sad. We are looking ahead to the future, not only to becoming Seniors, but adult men and women of tomorrow's world. We are listening to the demands of the changing world around us, but we are also being listened to, because we will soon be making our marks in the world.

Fixing what 'Mother Nature' forgot!

STANDING: Joan Spieth, Charlie White, Bob Hoffman, Liz Landis, Jeff Thompson, Roger Hess, Larry Wine. SITTING: Lois Douglas, Sharon Franz, Bonnie Baker, Susie Wilgus.

When Fred Hastings spends more money than his parents believe he is earning, when his friend Larry Madison attempts to get his chum out of hot water, and when an eccentric little lady of eighty decides to play football, any attempt at trying to preserve the sanity of other casual observers becomes futile.

Fred's mother, Cora, is planning a birthday party for Fred's girl, Nancy, but when two strangers, beautifully feminine, appear, in the persons of Gloria Patterson and Lois Corwin, the plot thickens. Fred is doomed; his job as model for Glamour Girl Cosmetics is about to be revealed. But leave everything to Larry, Larry insists. Gilbert Hastings, Fred's father, is furious when he learns about it; Julie Tucker's chief concern is being able to keep the puppy Larry has bought for her on the installment plan. And that's when Melinka Whipple, that wiry bundle of energy, appears.

The birthday party? It turns out to be something slightly less than an open-house affair, with a Mr. Danbury looking for local television talent, Bill Sterling looking for his girl, and Melinda Whipple looking for enough space in which to make a touchdown in football.

Class of 1965

CLASS OFFICERS: Carol Oliver, News Reporter; Carmen Cummins, President; Gary Collie, Vice President; David Gallutia, Secretary; Carol Martin, Treasurer.

We, the class of 1965, are now on the second step of our four-year struggle to reach graduation from high school. Although we have only been in high school two years, we have seen and been a part of many different activities.

Besides the fact that our homework picked up this year, our class social life increased. In the fall we had a Halloween party which was considered a success. Then, in the spring, we had a car wash in the shop and a bake sale at Becker's Restaurant.

Our class president, Carmen Cummins, served as an excellent head and guided us over our heated class discussions with very little trouble. Carmen and Gary Hambleton were our student council representatives.

This year our class advisors, Mrs. Nearing and Mr. Dietsch, were a great help to us in everything where adult supervision was needed. We will all miss Mrs. Nearing next year and hope that her life of retirement will be rewarding after twenty-five years of faithful teaching. We hope Mr. Dietsch, who has completed his first year of teaching, has enjoyed working at North Central and will return to instruct us in Algebra II.

Our class will look back on the Sophomore year with mixed emotions. Some, of course, will say that it was just a jump closer to graduation. Many will remember it as a time when the midnight oil burned more than once. Still others will simply remember it as another rewarding experience that will help us be better citizens.

Where has the year gone? It seems like only yesterday that we freshmen were sort of scared of the future prospect of high school. Now we know different. The upperclassmen have managed to make this year an unforgettable one.

The year started out in some confusion, but it soon settled into routine.

The class had two activities that they could participate in during the year. One was a class party on Jan. 11th. The other was a money-making skating party. Class participation on this project was so good we were able to make a nice profit. We, as a class, sponsored a record hop after one of the ball games, which made us feel real good.

All in all our Freshman year was happy, successful year.

STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTIONS

Student Council

Carmen Cummins, master of ceremonies at the homecoming festivities.

The number one project undertaken by the student council this year was the sponsoring of the Homecoming festivities. Besides the work involved in selecting the queen and her court and arranging the ceremony itself, the council sponsored a record hop after the basketball game.

Other activities credited to the council was the selling of pompons for the county basketball tournament, promoting a "klondike" day and an all black and white day, again this was for the tourney, the selecting of hall monitors and the supervision of their activities, and the holding of student council elections for the 1963-64 school year.

National Honor Society members planning the scholarship banquet.

Since its organization in 1961, a total of 26 students have been chosen to become members of the Eagle Chapter. Graduating this year are the last two charter members Carol Oxender and Barbara Orewiler. The students tapped this year was the largest number admitted at one time since its beginning, eleven--of which seven were sophomores. Membership in this organization is based on scholarship, leadership, service and character. To be considered for membership a student must have a full "B" average; in addition he must rate high in the other three areas.

One of the big undertakings of the honor society was the holding of the second North Central Scholarship Banquet. This year's banquet was attended by approximately 225 students, parents, and faculty members. The speaker for this event was Dr. Alton Kurtz of the education department of Defiance College.

The Hi-Lites, a monthly paper, is circulated widely through the school.

The main purpose of the paper is to raise the school spirit, interest students in the different departments of our school, and making a record of activities during the school year.

The Hi-Lites is proud of its accomplishments and has filled an important niche in the school program.

Dan White, the Editor-in-Chief, and Roger Meyer, the Junior Editor, have done a creditable job. Mr. Gallutia, the faculty advisor, has also spent a great deal of time making the Hi-Lites a successful project.

Janice Sohn is shown running off the latest edition of Hi-Lites.

What Is Teaching Like

With the large membership in F.T.A. this year, it looks as if North Central is going to do something about the teacher shortage even though it will take a few years for these students to enter the field. Many of these students were valuable aids to the faculty in grading papers, monitoring tests, taking the class for a few moments, and grading elementary papers in the school testing program.

Darlene Dietrich and Lyndall Hugg received trophies for their outstanding achievement during the past three years.

The money-making activity for the club was a combined car wash and bake sale which was successful.

The highlight of the entire year was a party at Sue Morningstar's cottage at Long Lake which was attended by nearly all the members. The water was cold but the skiing was A-OK.

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of girls studying homemaking. F.H.A. provides opportunities for students to have additional experiences in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking.

This year the F.H.A. had a total enrollment of 40 members. The officers were: Kay Munroe, President; Marsha Rahmer, Vice President; Barbara Orewiler, Secretary; Claudie Flory, Treasurer; Susan Hoffman, Historian; Linda Snow, Reporter; Elizabeth Landis, Parliamentarian; Sherri VanSlyke, Song and Recreation Leader. Susan Hoffman served as our county representative, and also ran for a state office.

Susan Ely, Ruth Perham, and Cherri VanSlyke demonstrate dancing abilities.

The F.H.A. has three degrees of achievement by which it recognizes members' personal growth. These degrees are the Junior Homemaker Degree, the Chapter Homemaker Degree, and the State Homemaker Degree. As each of the three degrees is received, the symbol for the degree is presented to the member. This symbol is worn on a chain between the F.H.A.pin and the guard. This year, 22 members had or received one or more degrees. One member, Kay Munroe, received the highest possible degree, the State Homemaker Degree.

Just as each member's individual work is awarded, so also is that of the Chapter as a whole. This award is called the Award of Merit. This award recognizes those chapters which have planned and carried out well-rounded programs of work in which all members participated. This year, through the combined efforts of the executive council and the members, the North Central Chapter was awarded this honor as a symbol of its outstanding work through the year.

BOOK REVIEW CAST Janet Kintner, Roger Meyer, Liz Landis, Joan Spieth, Darlene Gerber, Jeff Thompson, Sue Morningstar.

Cataloging was our biggest task this year. Every book in our library will be filed three ways at the end of this year. We volunteered to sponsor an assembly on February 4. Six of our members introduced some of our better books. Our last project was the purchasing of paperback books to sell to the student body.

We have entertained three times this year. The Montpelier Library Club was our guest for a night. Our Christmas party was held at Mrs. Ever's home. Each year we honor the seniors in our club. This year we had a luncheon for them.

The largest project of the year in the music department was the promotion of the annual fish fry by the band boosters. The evening was well attended by the community and the money will be used in the music program. The high school band and the junior high chorus provided the entertainment for the evening.

The high school band participated in contest at Bowling Green on March 16. Even though the results were somewhat disappointing improvement was shown over the past few years.

A christmas concert was presented on December 19 which was well attended.

Varsity Club Helps Set Athletic Policies

Mr. Gerald Hendricks, Mr. Lee Hemminger (Coach at Ayersville who was speaker at athletic banquet); Mr. Lloyd Rodgers, Mrs. Rodgers.

Track was begun at North Central High after an absence of many years. It is the hopes of the administration and coaching staff that the boys will take advantage of the addition of this program in our curriculum. It takes time to build a track team, but in a couple of years we should turn out some good cindermen.
